Dear Mrs. Strickland,

Thank you for your letter and the information. It sounds like you must have several good libraries in the area.

Ft. Worth's library is smaller than Houston's, but has quite a few books Houston doesn't. I found in a book of computerized marriage records of Jones County the marriage of my ancestor Sam Mitchell to Louzana Walters in 1883 — his 2nd marriage.

How nice that you met Mrs. Cooley. I've never actually corresponded with her. Her husband is a descendant of Harbert and Carter.

I'm not really sure about Harbert's son Berry — only what I found there. I didn't know about the other family's records. Ask Mrs. Cooley about it and let me know if you find out anything.

Did I tell you before that old John Mitchell of Wayne County died in 1868? That is from a Bible. Also, sometimes his birthplace is given as S. Carolina and sometimes Georgia. In 1880, Sam Mitchell gave his daddy's birthplace as Georgia.

All the Louisiana Mitchells have heard that they are not really Mitchells but Overstreets and that Sam changed it for some reason. The Mississippi Mitchells, however, have never heard it, and I haven't been able to find any indication of it in the census. There are Overstreets in the area.

I've never found Sam Mitchell in 1870. His son William supposedly had a falling out and left. He hired out to Jim Flurry in Jackson Co. and in September, 1874, married his daughter. I wonder if maybe Sam didn't take his family to Jackson County in the 1860's. He supposedly came home on furlough in 1863 or 1864, found his children orphaned, and refused to go back. The slave woman, Mammy Jude, lied for him when the army came looking for him. Morgan Mitchell that I mentioned before, who almost surely was the same Morgan who was Sam's brother, was shot as a deserter in 1864, I believe. My informant says Mammy cried to stay with them, but Sam wouldn't let her. Does that imply maybe he left? Wasn't the coast under Yankee control pretty early? Jim ~~Spring~~ my imagination full reign here. However, he's not in Jackson County in 1870 either. Any suggestions?

I didn't find any mention of Indians among the Flurrys in 4 centuries. Were there supposed to ~~be~~? According to our family tradition, Renie (Rennie?) Cowart, William Turner's wife, was an orphaned Indian child raised by the Cowarts, although we don't know who.

Do you have information on the Cowarts? If so, I'd like to find out something. Any idea who Renie's parents (foster parents?) were?

Do you have any information on the Flurrys? I've never written to any of them. A Flurry descendant in California, now deceased, wrote to some of them about 20 years ago but said she couldn't get much out of them.

The Sarah Turner who married Jim Flurry in 4 Centuries was daughter of William Turner and Nancy Dowart. Another daughter was Elizabeth, who married Simon Antonio Thompson, who I think maybe had lived in Jackson County. He was half-brother to ~~Ida~~ Albert Havens's wife Mary Ellen Smith. Simon and Mary Ellen's mother later married a Mr. ~~Tom~~ Martin. All of these people ended up in Calcasieu Parish.

Well, I've rambled on. I sometimes forget you are not a relative.

Sincerely,
Wesley M. Curton

Mrs. Pat Edwards
26 Robinwood Place
Purvis, MS 39475

Dear Mrs. Edwards,

I hope this letter finds you well. After mailing my letter of July 22, I realized that I had not mentioned another probable Mississpi connection in my lineage which might be of interest to users of your library. I certainly would like to hear from any researchers of this family, the Mitchells, as I cannot prove my descent from it.

I am sending you a probate record for a David Mitchell from the book Mississippi Court Records 1799-1835. I believe it possible that one of my great great great grandmothers, Winnie Mitchell Rion, is related to this family. She was born about 1818 in Louisiana, and lived in Calcasieu Parish until her death in 1904 (Calcasieu was made from St. Landry Parish). Family tradition holds that she was part Choctaw, and that the Mitchell family moved from South Carolina to Mississippi and thence to Louisiana. I have no evidence, unfortunately, that my Winnie is in any way related to David Mitchell.

Another possibility is that Winnie is a daughter of James and Elizabeth Turner Mitchell, who were natives of South Carolina living in St. Landry Parish around 1820 (according to Father Hebert's Southwest Louisiana Records). Family tradition says that Winnie's father was named Richard, but his generation is so far back that I cannot consider the tradition to be reliable.

Anyway, I thought I would mention this to you in hopes there may be some clues in your card file or if someone else might be researching Mitchells. I would appreciate hearing from you if you come across any leads. I don't remember whether I sent a SASE in my last letter, so will do so now in case something turns up.

Thank you again for your help.

Best wishes,

William H. Houston

Dear Mrs. Strickland

I'm looking for more information again. Hope you can help me - subject again - lost on Robinson relatives.

Known info:

James Jordan Smith married Jeanette Susanna Mitchell (dau of Ruthinia Mitchell and Angelia Holden). in 1891.

1900 census shows James Jordan Smith married to Louisa Pearl or Pearl Louisa (maiden name Howard) Howard found.

As ever a record of marriage in Hancock County (between 1891 & 1900) of James Jordan Smith & Louisa Pearl or Pearl Louisa Howard (none was found in Pearl River Co)

As ever a divorce decree or is ever any record of any type, between Jeanett Susanna & James Jordan.

A "son" of James Jordan Smith - W.S. (Could it be William Salone) born about 1890. According to Pearl River Co. records - at age 41 in 1-21-1933 W.S. married Lera Mae Howard age 21 in 1933.

Still looking for whatever happened to my Great Aunt Sarah Susanna Mitchell Smith + any information you might be able to glean on William L. (Lolney?) Smith and Lora Mae Howard Smith.

Thanking you in advance.

JACKSON COUNTY...

Over the Back Fence

By Jerry King

A United States senator's job is a hard one, but pity his poor secretary who is expected to do anything from finding someone an apartment to serving as a one-woman domestic relations bureau.

However, Virginia Mitchell executive assistant to Senator James Eastland, in the past eight years, doesn't feel, or look, like an object of pity.

Smartly tailored, vivacious and friendly, Mrs. Simmerman does admit, though, that she was so exhausted when she first arrived at the home of her brother Charles Mitchell and his family in Moss Point, that she had to eat all her meals in bed for a couple of days.

She has been the watch dog for the jobs of many a Mississippian during the past six months when administration changes made a Democrat's position precarious.

"I am swamped at the office and my phone rings all night with people asking help, information or advice," she declared.

"Personally, I protest the pitching out of career people with civil service rating because of politics. I think neither party should be able to touch these people who have their jobs by virtue of a standing made in a fair and competitive examination."

Mrs. Simmerman went to Washington in 1935 as secretary to Theo Bilbo, in which capacity she served until 1940 when she went to work for Brehon Somervell, material procurement director for national defense.

After five exceedingly interesting years during which she was in charge of preparing all the engineer contract awards she became the secretary of Sen. Eastland.

She was born in Pontotoc and is responsible for having a victory ship named the SS Pontotoc. She was asked to be the sponsor and as such she followed with interest and trepedation the little ship's activities during Wo War II. The Pontotoc was tor doed three times but finally ma it through the hostilities and "still going strong," according Mrs. Simmerman.

Her family moved to Tup and is well known over the sta her father having been stor general.

After the death of her husba a Virginia planter, she decided go to work, even though she h four small children and her fath was against it.

She went to a business scho however, and tricked her fath into employing her in his law face by persuading several of business friends to write lett offering her jobs.

"It was in the depression and remember one lawyer sayi 'Virginia, you'd better not your father take me up on t job offer. I couldn't pay a sec tary a week's salary. And it a fine experience working for father."

She likes Washington but mits to periodic attacks of hon sickness.

"I just don't think there is a place like Mississippi and I convinced that Mississippians superior to all others."

As secretary in the senato office, she has many chances help her fellow statesmen. She frequently called on to get vi for Mississippians planning tra abroad or to arrange for forei relatives to enter this country residence. Since cessation of h tilities in Korea, probably greatest number of requests to do with getting men out the service.

"There are so many hardsh cases and I have a special inter in veterans, too, since my t boys are veterans, so I work ex hard over these."

One of her sons was a bomb dier in the 15th Air Force was shot down on his 26th m sion. After having been report missing for two months, he discovered in a prison camp.

The other son was with the Air Force in England. Both lawyers living in Washing now. She also has two devoti and four grandchildren that ford her much pleasure, pride amusement.

since neither contract awards she became the secretary of Sen. Eastland.

She was born in Pontotoc and is responsible for having a victory ship named the SS Pontotoc. She was asked to be the sponsor and as such she followed with interest and trepedation the little the service.

"There are so many hardship cases and I have a special interest in veterans, too, since my two boys are veterans, so I work extra hard over these."

One of her sons was a bombardier in the 15th Air Force and was shot down on his 26th mission. After having been reported missing for two months, he was discovered in a prison camp.

The other son was with the 8th Air Force in England. Both are lawyers living in Washington, now. She also has two daughters and four grandchildren that afford her much pleasure, pride and amusement.

Mrs. Simmerman was president of the Mississippi Society in Washington for two years and feels that those years were successful. During her first term the organization sent $1200 to a ward in a crippled children's hospital in Jackson and the next year a scholarship was offered and $400 given to the Mississippi Women's Luncheon Club to assist with some of that group's projects. She also served as president of the Senate Secretaries' Association.

She doesn't have much time for a hobby, though she loves to cook and watch television. Mrs. Simmerman has a lovely voice and when a student at Mary Baldwin school she won a coveted medal singing before two famous musicians who served as judges.

She sang as soloist at First Baptist Church in Tupelo and also in a Washington church, but she really hasn't done anything much with her talent.

"I soon found there wasn't room in a person's life for music and politics. One must go!" she said.

Mrs. Simmerman loves being in the front lines where she can watch government. She has her own views, too.

"I don't think they are firing the right people if they want to get the mechanics of the government straight ned out," she said.

Mrs. Simmerman believes Communism is a much more serious threat than most people believe.

Everything in Washington is tension and strain and so sometimes it is a diversion to get one of her numerous calls even from someone wanting Mrs. Simmerman to fill out her Mississippi income tax (Mrs. Simmerman said she explained she can't do her own) or someone involved in a domestic crisis to counsel or feed.

Mrs. Simmerman has a strong conviction, too, born of observation and experience during her years in Washington and close contact with government circles:

"Southern Democrats have saved the country."

NON-SHOOTING SHERIFF

Maysville, Ky. (AP) Sheriff Hobart Collins soon will step down after 12 years as a Mason county law enforcement officer without ever having fired his pistol. Collins still has the same cartridges in the gun that he put there when he went into office.

"I guess it's just as well I never had to shoot. I never was a good shot," he laughed.

Collins never has been shot at either.

"This is a pretty law abiding county," he observed.

Jay Mitchell

For anyone making camp at Shephard State Park in Gautier, Jay Mitchell has been the person to talk to for the past eight years. Mitchell is the park manager and is in charge of a variety of jobs that keep the park going. Mitchell does "A little bit of everything," which includes upkeep, maintenance and security. Mitchell, the former owner of a video store, got his start in the park service after a dare from a friend. Mitchell has always been an avid outdoorsman who loves to hunt, fish and camp. Mitchell said his work allows him to be the outdoors as well as meet interesting people from all over the world who come to stay at his park. When he's not managing the park, Mitchell likes to get away and take trips on his motorcycle.

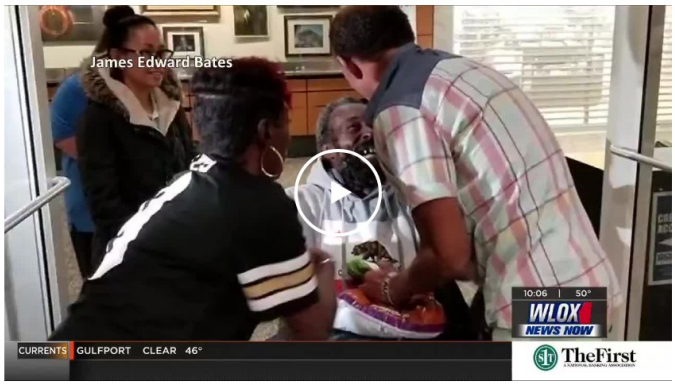
Moss Point man thought to be dead reunites with family



EMOTIONAL REUNION: Man missing five years makes it back home

By Ray Price | February 13, 2019 at 3:38 PM CST - Updated February 14 at 6:22 AM

GULFPORT, MS (WLOX) - A reunion took place at the Gulfport-Biloxi Airport that some thought would never happen.

Carolyn Mitchell thought her uncle David McCovery was dead. No one in her family had heard from him in five years. Come to find out, he was almost 2,000 miles away in San Diego.

"He's been missing, and we've been looking, and thank God that he is alive," Mitchell said.

McCovery's plane arrived last Monday. His family could not believe the man wearing the gray sweatshirt with the California state flag was the man they thought they lost years ago.

"Man! Boy it feels so good," McCovery said as he made his way through the terminal. "I didn't think I would be able to lay eyes on my family again."

He ended up on the West Cost after a family friend asked him to go to from Moss Point to California with him. During the trip, they stopped at a Burger King in San Diego. McCovery got out to get a drink. When he came back outside the other man abandoned him. To make things worse, McCovery had no phone, no money and had suffered a stroke not too long before that, which affected his memory.

An Emotional Homecoming: Man missing five years returns to family

Left helpless, he became homeless.

"At one point I wanted to just give up and just say, 'it looks like I'm just going to be stuck here for the rest of my life,'" McCovery told a reporter with KGTV in San Diego.

McCovery wandered the streets, losing hope, until a married couple, Claudette and Alicia Clark, met him outside of a Costco in San Diego. They bought him some clothes and food and talked with him.

After telling the couple what happened to him, they shared his story on social media. Within a few days, their connections helped them find his niece, who did not believe the phone call at first.

"It was really emotional, happy, and sad," Mitchell said.

In California, the Clarks coordinated the homecoming trip with Operation Homeless Hope and raised more than enough money to get McCovery a plane ticket home and a hotel room so he could take that hot shower that he'd been wanting for so long.

"I thank the Lord for those two ladies. I would never, never, I mean never forget those two ladies," McCovery said with tears in his eyes.

His niece said they went to California looking for him years ago, but no one had seen him. On the streets, McCovery was praying his sister Lena would be the one to rescue him, but she died before they could be reunited.

"My mom is living through him, so I'm excited," Mitchell said.

Thanks to kind strangers and the power of social media, McCovery is back where he belongs.

"We're ready to start a new start," Mitchell said.
